DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9 and 12-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-4, 6-9, and 12-20 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2, 5-10, 13-16, and 19-21 of copending Application No. 10/962019. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims in the present application involve an obvious broadening of the claims in the co-pending application. Also, changing between implant and instrument would have been obvious.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-4, 6-9, and 12-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Seeley et al. (USPN 6,490,475).

6. Seeley et al. teaches a system for improved calibration of an instrument, said system comprising: an instrument for use in an image-guided operation, said instrument tracked with respect to a reference coordinate system during said image-guided operation (abstract); a plurality of fiducials placed on said instrument, said plurality of fiducials enabling measurement of said instrument (col. 5, l. 55- col. 6, l. 8); a sensor for measuring said instrument, said sensor capable of being positioned with respect to one or more of said fiducials for measurement of one or more locations on said instrument

(col. 6, ll. 9-41); and a tracking system for measuring one or more locations on said instrument using said sensor and said plurality of fiducials in closed form registration to calibrate said instrument, wherein said tracking system compares measurements from said instrument with a model for said instrument to determine a variation based on deformity of the instrument (abstract; col. 4, ll. 26-30), said tracking system adjusting tracking of said instrument based on said variation (abstract; col. 4, l. 47-col. 5, l. 7), wherein said tracking system further comprises a feedback mechanism used during surgical navigation to determine accuracy of tracking of the instrument by comparing tracked versus actual instrument position to determine whether positional accuracy is within a certain tolerance and recalibrating the instrument during surgical navigation if the positional accuracy is outside the certain tolerance (col. 6, ll. 9-42; col. 9, ll. 4-25). Seeley further teaches using geometrical fiducials (col. 5, ll. 32-54). Seeley et al. also teaches comparing measurements to a model (abstract; col. 5, ll. 7-31).
